President's Message

"Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope and confidence." — Helen Keller

This morning, at approximately sunrise on the morning of February 2, 2026, in Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, a crowd gathered on Gobbler's Knob as the groundhog known as Punxsutawney Phil emerged from his burrow. Shortly after dawn, with the sun low in the sky, he saw his shadow—a traditional sign that WINTER WILL CONTINUE FOR 6 MORE WEEKS.....

This annual ritual is a uniquely American folk tradition with roots that stretch back to the late 19th century. German-American settlers in Pennsylvania brought an old weather-prediction custom from Europe, interpreting the emerging animal's reaction to its shadow as a clue to the coming season. In 1887, local members of what became the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club formalized the practice at Gobbler's Knob, naming their prognosticating mascot "Punxsutawney Phil." Since then, every February 2 has drawn thousands to witness his forecast—whether it be more winter or an early spring.

Here in Georgia, we've just experienced some of the coldest nights of the season. It's the kind of weather that makes you think twice about going outside without an extra layer, and it's no surprise that news of Phil seeing his shadow feels familiar. But while the notion of "six more weeks of winter" might sound like a complaint to some, I see it as something else entirely: To serve those in need! Rotary has always taught us that how we approach a situation often matters more than the situation itself. We choose service when others see struggle; we choose action where others see only adversity.

As we all know, this week leads up to Super Bowl Sunday! One of the biggest nights of sports. It reminds me of a story I heard about Alex Smith, NFL QB and how he was faced with what looked like the darkest of winter of his life and turned it into a blessing. In November 2018, Alex Smith, then the starting quarterback for Washington, suffered one of the most devastating injuries in NFL history. On a routine play, his right leg snapped—he broke two bones. He faced multiple surgeries, a life-threatening infection, and months in a wheelchair, unsure if he would ever walk again—let alone play football. For most athletes, that would have been the end of the story.

Instead, Smith entered what he later described as the hardest season of his life—not just physically, but mentally. He spent nearly two years rehabbing, learning to walk again, and rebuilding strength. While he couldn't play, he stayed with the team—mentoring younger quarterbacks, helping break down film, and becoming a steady presence in the locker room. What looked like a long and harsh winter of his life turned into a new role. In 2020, against overwhelming odds, Smith returned to the field and won NFL Comeback Player of the Year. But many teammates said his greatest impact wasn't in the games he played—it was in the way he led during the time he couldn't play.

So if winter does indeed linger, let it be another reason to serve.

There's warmth in a meal shared with a neighbor, helping a less fortunate family with their heating bill, and hope in showing up where others might shrink back. Spring will come in its time—but the service we give today creates the kind of spring that lasts all year long.

Here's to staying warm in heart, strong in purpose, and steadfast in our commitment to Service Above Self.

Gratitude Wall: Members Helping Members

Highlighting a few of the many acts of service our members give to each other:

Tim Maurer would like to thank Ken Briggs

Despite the pleasantly persistent reminders at every Rotary meeting of our outward facing mission—Service Above Self—one of its most endearing qualities, I believe, shines through when the mission is "proclaimed" quietly. I have to thank Ken Briggs for personifying that mission through his actions and intentions even more than his words, because if not for his living it out (and inviting me in), I don't believe I'd ever have come to know Rotary.

New Member Spotlight
Welcome Bill Sawin to Roswell Rotary

NEW MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

New Roswell Rotary member Bill Sawin grew up on a small farm in rural Northwest Michigan that had been homesteaded by his great-grandfather where he was involved in his family's agricultural traditions of raising chickens and cattle, gardening, and growing Christmas trees. Bill was introduced to Rotary by his father Paul Sawin who is a member and past president of the Manton Michigan club.

Bill graduated from Alma College and Michigan Technological University with bachelor degrees in liberal arts and in civil engineering. As a licensed Civil Engineer with a specialization in railroads, he worked for Norfolk Southern Railroad from 2007 through 2019 gaining a wide range of experience in design, construction, survey, and project management of railroad projects. With expertise on a wide range of commodities and projects including track, facilities, ports, spurs, highway crossings and industrial site developments, he attended Georgia Tech's Scheller College of Business, earning an MBA in Business Innovation and Strategy in 2018. Bill currently works for Kimley-Horn as a rail consultant for a variety of passenger, industrial, port, and public/private clients interfacing with railroads.

Bill is single and he enjoys spending time with friends and family, likes to travel and has volunteered with Habitat for Humanity and his church. Hobbies include laser etching, drone piloting, baking, violin, reading, and strategy games. When life allows, he enjoys being outdoors including hiking, cycling, fishing, shooting, and winter sports.

Since joining the Roswell Club in July 2025, Bill has generously helped with the Roswell Canton Street Scarecrow, Youth Day Parade Float, Riverside cleanup, and the Golf Tournament. He is most passionate about ways to support Roswell Rotary's club agendas of "Basic Education and Literacy" and "Community Economic Development".

Interesting Fact: A train can haul 1 ton of freight a distance of 480 miles on one gallon of fuel and each rail car on a train carries over 3 tractor trailers of load.
