Jodi Daniels

Protecting Data in our Digital World

Jodi Daniels is a Certified Informational Privacy Professional (CIPP/US) with more than 20 years of experience helping a range of businesses from solopreneurs to multi-national companies in privacy, marketing, strategy, and finance roles. During her corporate career, she proved a valuable asset to companies like Deloitte, The Home Depot, Cox Enterprises, Bank of America where she most recently served as the privacy partner for Digital Banking and Digital Marketing. Ms. Daniels started her privacy career by creating the comprehensive privacy program at Cox Automotive. She launched an online advertising network for Autotrader and Kelley Blue Book.

Since launching in 2017, Red Clover Advisors has helped hundreds of companies create privacy programs, achieve GDPR compliance, and establish a secure online data strategy their customers can count on. Jodi makes privacy easy to understand by breaking it down into measurable steps using plain language her clients can relate to. She passionately supports the idea that privacy is more than just compliance and concern over fines. It's a human right we all deserve. She has made it her mission to help

Wear your Rotary Foundation Bling to this Week’s Meeting

In celebration of Rotary Foundation Month, let’s all dust off our Foundation recognition awards and wear them to this week’s Rotary meeting!

Paul Harris pins, Benefactor wings, Major Donor pin or pendant, PHS tag, Bequest Society pin – if you’ve got it, wear it! If you don’t know what those are, come to this week’s meeting and find out (or get a head start at <https://www.rotary.org/en/donate/recognition>). And when someone asks what that pin is, that’s your opportunity to tell them about the great work Rotary does through your support of the Rotary Foundation, and invite them to a
